Time to Order for the Holidays!

All About Homes

When we are all enjoying the last of the summer and not really looking forward to winter (especially in some of the northern states) it's difficult to think about the upcoming Holiday season.

Take some photos NOW!!

But consider:

- ◆ A home represents, not only a major investment, but family, friends and precious memories, therefore, "home is where the heart is" - many people love their home
- ◆ Therefore, a home illustration makes a wonderful gift - maybe the best ever!

You can take another set of photos in winter after the leaves fall - for a clear view of the home.

This is the perfect time to take some photos of your home. Trees and flowers are in bloom and the house looks great! However, if large trees block the full view of the house, you can always take another picture of it when all the leaves fall. With both photos to look at, we can do an outstanding illustration for you. (Ask for Photography Guidelines and learn more about how your photos can help create the best illustration possible.)

Something else to consider is that we get very busy in the months leading up to Christmas, so, if we can start your home portrait today, we can give it maximum attention. And some people wait too long to order and then we can't get it done in time. We wouldn't want that to happen to you! Please order TODAY!

Two Little Dogs

We bought these 2 cute little dogs last yeat and - what do you know? - our house and yard got smaller and smaller. So we moved to a bigger house with a half acre lot - for the dogs, mind you! And, on top of all that, the house is a fixer-upper so I will be very busy this holiday season with house , dogs and your artwork.

PLEASE ORDER EARLY!
